

Bio of Glenn Rex, Rex Association Management, LLC

Rex Association Management, LLC was incorporated and began to offer services in 2004. We are an association management company providing a full range of services to various non-profit business trade associations, including communications, public & government relations, accounting and bookkeeping, meeting and event planning and production.

As the President of the company, Rex has executive association management experience dating back to 1986 when he began his career in the industry as the Executive Director of the Houston Restaurant Association.

Today the five client Associations that we manage are the Mechanical Contractors Association of Houston (www.mcahouston.org), the Mechanical Contractors Associations of Texas (www.mcatexas.org), the Houston Sheet Metal Contractors Association, the Southern States Automotive Contractors Association (www.ssaca.net) and the Texas Crane Owners Association (www.texascraneowners.org).

In addition to these responsibilities, Rex serves on the Board of Directors of the Construction Career Collaborative (C3). C3 is a workforce development initiative made up of building owners, general and specialty contractors, whose mission is to re-establish the construction skilled trades as a viable career opportunity. And he is the past president of the Houston Construction Industry Council, the City of Houston chartered organization charged with reviewing and recommending for adoption the City's building codes. Rex also serves on the Board of Directors of the Houston Northwest Chamber of Commerce, and chairs a task force on public safety and security.
